THE CONFIRMATION FIGHT

Against Judge Ewart Likely to Continue.

TACTICS WHICH MAY DEFEAT HIM

Employed by Senator Butler and Others—Senator-Elect Blackburn Visits Washington.

Special to THE TELEGRAM. Washington, Jan. 30.—Judge Ewart, whose nomination for the North Carolina circuit judgeship is still pending before the senate judiciary committee, is a frequent visitor to Washington. He can be seen almost any time about the senate corridor, working to secure his confirmation. Probably there has never been a case where a nomination has been held up as long in the senate of the United States without action of either favorable or unfavorable nature. The judge himself, as also Senator Pritchard, is confident of confirmation, and the general opinion of those who have watched the progress of the nominations this winter is that the judge stands a better chance for confirmation than he has at any time heretofore. There seems to be no reason to doubt but after all the charges which have been made against Judge Ewart by Senator Butler and others, opposed him, but that he would, if the case were to come to a vote in the senate at this time, be confirmed by a large majority. The only question seems to be as to the ability of Senator Butler, and his colleagues who oppose confirmation, to prevent taking a vote. Those who doubt Senator Butler's ability to do this, are not familiar with the rules of the senate. Under these rules speeches are always in order and a senator can speak as often and as long as he desires. Dilatory motions are always in order, so it can be readily seen that in a case like that of Judge Ewart, if a half dozen senators desired—and there are many more than that number—opposed to Judge Ewart—they could ward off a vote by resorting to such tactics indefinitely. Heretofore Senator Butler has been able by these and other methods, to prevent a vote in the senate, and there is no doubt but if he can accomplish Ewart's defeat in no other manner, he will use this extreme method if possible.

The house of representatives Monday took up for consideration the bill to license pilots. Considerable opposition was manifested against the measure, and the members of the house received many petitions against it, particularly members from the southern states.

Representative Williams gave a dinner Sunday night to a small party in honor of Hon. William J. Bryan. Among those present in addition to the Colonel, was Judge Springer, of Illinois, who was formerly one of the leaders of the house of representatives.

Senator-elect Blackburn, of Kentucky, was among the prominent visitors to the capitol last Monday, and while at the great building visited the senate chamber, where he was warmly greeted by the democrats. Senator Blackburn expresses confidence that the legislature will decide the gubernatorial contest in Kentucky favorable to Geobel, and that the latter will be seated governor in place of Taylor. The senator says that the threats of the republicans to use the militia of the state is the rankest kind of nonsense.

It is said that Roberts may carry his case to the supreme court, but among most members of the house the opinion is that he will do no such thing. Most of the congressmen would like to see the case go before the court of last resort, and to ascertain the views of that high tribunal on the legal right of the house to reject a polygamist, and persistent violator of the laws of the very body he seeks to enter.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

Committee Called to Meet at Wharton Bros. Tonight.

The members of the central committee on the Y. M. C. A. Convention are earnestly requested to meet for a few minutes tonight at the bookstore of Wharton Bros. at 7:30, to consider important matters with reference to the convention soon to be held in this city. Please let every member be prompt, and only a short session will be held. The committee is as follows:

R. M. Phillips, Chairman. C. C. McLean. Les G. Wharton. A. M. Scales. C. P. Young. C. W. Petty. Thos. A. Glascock. M. Thos. Edgerton. L. W. Crawford, Jr. P. W. Claxton. F. M. Brown.

Why is it called E. Z. ? Because the first child who ever wore the waist explained, "Papa, I like it because it's so easy." And children everywhere like it for the same reason. It gives all over. ## A HIGH COMMITMENT.

Paid Acme Mill Works by a Competent Authority.

The Telegram is always glad to see deserved praise heaped on our home enterprises and none is more justly deserved than the following editorial from the Southern Review of Commerce, published in Louisville, Ky., recommending the most reliable roll grinders and corrugators.

"Numerous inquiries have been received by us recently, from millers and mill proprietors among our subscribers, throughout the south, asking a recommendation of the best and most reliable roll grinders and corrugators, and that we might be able to give an intelligent and unbiased reply thereto we have just concluded one of our most careful and exhaustive investigations conducted by our large corps of representatives in various parts of the country, especially proficient in their peculiar profession.

"It is a well known fact that we never make a recommendation, until after we have first satisfied ourselves, beyond the possibility of a doubt, as to what particular article, line of goods, or firm (as the case may be), is actually the best and most meritorious; indeed, to such a reputation for reliability have the editorial endorsements of the Southern Review of Commerce attained that a very large proportion of our readers have come to accept our recommendations, in every instance, as final and conclusive evidence of the superiority of the goods or firm endorsed.

"In the present case, therefore, after receiving the full and detailed reports of the representatives engaged on this investigation, we are pleased to give our unqualified endorsement to Acme Mill Works, of Greensboro, N. C., as being the most reliable firm engaged in the business of roll grinding and corrugating, that have come under our observation.

"We take pleasure also in recommending the Acme Mill Works people as gentlemen of the highest commercial standing, with a known reputation for business integrity and fair and honorable dealing, and we suggest to all our readers who are interested in this recommendation that you place yourselves in direct communication with this reliable and enterprising company. They will quote you best prices on their roll grinders and corrugators, or give you any other detailed information (not pertinent to these pages) that may be desired. We can assure you that they will treat you right.

"They do a general contracting business in the line of building and remodeling small mills and equipping the same with the latest improved machinery.

"They make a specialty of the grinding and corrugating of rolls, and guarantee their work satisfactory in every instance, at the most reasonable prices. A correspondence with them will result to your advantage.

"Persons who have no concerns in the matter here presented, other than to place the best and most reliable roll grinders and corrugators before our subscribers, whose interests only we seek to serve. Our investigation and this recommendation were both made without the knowledge of any person in any way connected with the house here endorsed, and without our receiving or soliciting any pay or reward of any kind therefor. We receive no remuneration whatever for any recommendation we make, and we refer with pride to the fact that in all the history of the Southern Review of Commerce we have never published an unreliable endorsement—to which fact, perhaps, more than to anything else, we owe the great success the Review has long since won by its impartial publication, including a reputation second to none and a circulation of many thousand copies more than that of any other paper of its kind."

The Concert Friday Night

To be given by the Busy Bee Society of St. Andrews church, will be a treat to music loving people. The Graphophone-Grand is Mr. Edison's latest invention, and is a wonderful instrument indeed. There is no use in paying 75c and $1.00 to hear an opera or some fine band when you can have them all right in your midst for 25c. This machine does not only produce the human voice, and the harmony and volume of a band or orchestra, but you hear the music just the same as if you were sitting in an opera house listening to the original. Don't fail to be present at this exhibition, you will not lose anything, but help out the little ones, in a good cause. The admission is 15 and 25 cents, no reserved seats.

A Scrap.

A white man and a colored man had a scrap yesterday evening about dark at Gene Morehead's livery stable, in the rear of the dispensary. The white man made knifing wood out of the colored man's head by bringing it in vigorous contact with the colored man's head. No serious damage except to the soap box.

Brecks Manufacturing Co.

Frank Brooks was elected a director in the Brooks Manufacturing Co., vice R. W. Brooks resigned. The company will enlarge their office. All the old officers were re-elected.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

A WHOLESALE VACCINATION

Of Schoolchildren Ordered by the Mayor—Negroes Sent to Pest House.

TELEGRAM BUREAU. HIGH POINT, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Keen and child, of Thomasville, spent yesterday with Mrs. J. F. Hoffman.

A machinist from Charlotte passed through yesterday enroute to Asheville to do some work.

The "C. M. A." organized in the rooms over J. W. Seebrecht's shop last night, with eight members. All the boys should join this order.

Two colored men were sent to the county pest house yesterday, on account of not staying in the lines of quarantine as laid down to them Sunday.

P. D. Gold, Jr., of Greensboro, was a city visitor yesterday.

W. F. Creighton came up from Rock Hill, S. C., last night.

Howe Coleman, of Richmond, was a guest of this city yesterday.

The school children were notified by the mayor yesterday that they would have to be vaccinated before returning to school again, and as a result they kept the doctors busy for awhile.

The board of aldermen met yesterday morning and the mayor was instructed to carry out compulsory vaccination, commencing February 1st.

C. Durham, representing the Tripod Paint company, of Atlanta, Georgia, spent yesterday in the city on business.

Two suspected cases of smallpox have been reported, but as yet have not been pronounced.

E. A. Willes, depot agent at Randleman, was here last night.

As far as we learn, no new cases of smallpox have been developed since yesterday.

HERMANN THEORET.

A New Star to Greensboro Coming Next Week.

A star new to this city, but one with a reputation that is world-wide, and the possessor of a name and the master of an art that is dear to the American public, appears at the Academy of Music next Tuesday evening, February 6, in the person of Leon Herrmann, nephew and successor to "Alexander Herrmann, the Great."

Leon Herrmann was for many years the preeminent actor of Europe and the Orient, and to the people of those countries he was "Herrmann the Great," as Alexander was to the people of America.

Leon Herrmann is now on his third American tour and he has in that short space of time succeeded in planting himself in the affections of our playgoers. He is an adept in legendarism, or pure sleight of hand, a feature of the magician's art the most difficult to master, but the most pleasing to the average theatre-goer. In this branch of art magic he stands alone and supreme, the master. He will also present a number of stunts and new illusions, but it is in his sleight of hand with which he has astounded the American people. Easy and gracefully, he performs the most mystifying tricks and in the most simple manner. He possesses the same running fire of wit with which Uncle Alexander was wont to amuse his audiences. He has the same mannerisms and personal magnetism, balm strikingly resembles him in form and feature. His feats of legendarism are original with him and consequently new to this city. Mr. Herrmann has introduced into his entertainment the present season several high class vaudeville acts. "Solaret," the "Queen of Light," has a most wonderful repertoire of spectacular dances. With changes of lights and colors (colors such as never were seen before), the handsome costumes and the ease and grace and beauty of the performer, the dances, are, without question, marvels of loveliness and splendor. To fully describe them one must possess the pen of a Byron or the brush of a Rembrandt.

The four Lucifers, one of the finest musical quartettes on the stage of today, will play a number of selections on many novel and other instruments. Mr. J. R. Lucier, the noted blind cornetist, will also play on that instrument.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Strathville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 60c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

GOEBEL SHOT FROM AMBUSH

Five Shots Fired But Only One Took Effect.

THAT ONE WILL PROVE FATAL.

The Assassin Unknown—Shooting Done From a Third Story Window—Militia Called Out.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30.—Senator Geobel was shot from ambush today as he entered the capitol grounds.

Frankfort, Jan. 30.—Mr. Geobel is not dead but cannot live. The fatal bullet was fired from a side window on the third floor of the executive building. The wounded man was carried away by friends.

The assassin is not known. It is believed the military companies will be called out.

The people, especially the democrats, are worked up to a perfect frenzy of excitement.

Five shots were fired and it is not known how many took effect. Mr. Geobel was carried to the Capitol Hotel.

MILITARY CALLED OUT. Frankfort, Jan. 30.—Governor Taylor has called out the state militia and stationed 35 guards at the executive offices.

Sensor Geobel is dying. Only one shot took effect, lodging in the left breast near the heart.

Terrible excitement prevails.

THE NORMAL OPENS.

Large Attendance of Young Ladies in at the Start.

Scenes of life and activity are again taking shape at the State Normal and Industrial College. That institution reopened today with an unexpectedly large attendance—the exact number we are unable to get, but from the number estimated on each train there are now at the college not less than 250 girls—perhaps 300.

This is welcome news and will be hailed with delight all over the state. And the opening is not fully effected, the first week usually being considered opening time. It is safe to predict that before the end of the present week there will be considerably more than 300 young ladies in the dormitories.

The exercises today were most beautifully and appropriately conducted by Rev. Dr. Crawford, editor of the North Carolina Christian Advocate.

Since the above was written, we learn from the college that our estimate is correct—there are now 250 girls at the college, and more will arrive tonight. Some were kept away on account of the smallpox scare, who will come before the week is over. Some of those already here are new students, the great majority, however, being old ones.

WAR NEWS TODAY.

The Boers Again Repulse the British with Loss.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM. London, Jan. 30.—Special despatch from Durban says that a refugee who arrived there from Johannesburg reports the best destruction of the Boer shell factory at that place on January 20th. Loss is irreparable.

Pretoria, Jan. 30.—A Colesburg despatch says Commandant De Lary reports seeing a large body of British advance on Thursday. He attacked them causing British to retire after suffering heavy loss. General Grobler reports heavy fighting since daybreak. British in great force endeavored to surround Boer positions. Gen. Schoeman who went to the assistance of Grobler, returned this evening and reports that British were repulsed and that Boers maintained their position. Boers loss, 4; British loss, 6.

Modder River, Jan. 30.—About 11 o'clock last night, pickets of Scott's Guards detected a number of snipers creeping through bushes on the north bank of Riet river and the south bank of the Modder river. In the direction of the camp. After a sharp rifle fire the Scotts dispersed the Boers in the direction of Jacobsdale. The night being dark, it was impossible to estimate the number of Boers. Firing of guns at Kimberly was distinctly heard before dawn today.

BUTLER TRYING TO BACKWATER.

Wants to "Correct Misquotations" of His Raleigh Speech.

The News and Observer yesterday received the following:

United States Senate, Washington, D. C., Jan. 27, 1900.

Editor News and Observer, Raleigh, N. C.

You have published what purported to be a report of my speech at the recent meeting of the People's Party State Executive Committee held in the State Senate Chamber in Raleigh. Among other things you report me as saying that certain persons "should be driven from the state," etc. I made no such statement. All that I did say that could have accidentally been misquoted, or that could be thus distorted or perverted was to the effect that all law abiding citizens, regardless of party, should join hands in this campaign to drive from power in the state those who depend upon getting into and remaining in power by ballot box stuffing and by inciting mob violence.

The meeting of the committee which I addressed was an executive meeting, and there was no reporter of any paper present. How you secured this so-called report, which misrepresents my speech in many particulars, I do not know, but I am confident that every person who was present in the senate chamber and heard what I did say, will bear me out in this statement.

Yours respectfully, Marion Butler.

P. S.—Of course you will do me the justice to publish the above letter.

Notwithstanding Mr. Butler's denial, he used the words attributed to him. There can be no doubt of that. They were taken down as he spoke them next morning in this paper next morning. Mr. Butler was then in Raleigh. Neither he nor any other member denied that the report was correct. This was two weeks ago, and the above is, so far as we know, the first denial. And why? Mr. Butler is beginning to see the effect of his words are having. No doubt the above is what Mr. Butler wishes he had said, and it is possible that he has since persuaded himself he said it, but he did not. Here is what he said:

"Having entered this fight we cannot forsake it. We must go forward. Now even more than then are our liberties threatened. There is one issue and but one and we must till that is settled. That issue is whether or not North Carolinians are free men.

"Let us join hands with all who will help us and wipe out such a conspiracy.

I am satisfied that those in favor of free suffrage can, by combining their strength in the coming campaign, redeem the state from the Red Shirt Gang.

"The negro question, I know, confronts us, and it must be settled, but we can't trust the man who has lived on the negro thirty years to settle it. We've got to settle it. We are the folks who at heart want it settled, not they. We want it settled so they can no longer use it as a scarecrow. The republicans also are anxious for its settlement, and they'll help to settle it in the proper way."

"Let us join hands and defeat forever this little gang of anarchists who try to take by violence that which they cannot win by fair means. But it takes something more than a red shirt to scare a populist. In the eastern counties in the campaigns of recent years the populists haven't been running. They have been in more danger there than anywhere else, but they have stood true as steel.

"We have got to fight and we had as well make up our minds to do it. I believe there are votes in favor of free suffrage to win in the campaign in spite of their ballot box stuffing and red shirt lawlessness. But to do it we have got to be on our guard. The election law of 1894 was wide open and I wouldn't ask anything easier than to steal 50,000 votes under it. The new election law is worse. But we'll win in spite of Simmons and the redshirts.

The republicans are in this fight to the death. Let us join hands with them and help them whip this gang out of the state. Let us announce to the world that North Carolina will no longer be ruled by anarchists, red shirts and a little gang of tool-doms—men who have betrayed everybody and everything.

A Correction.
The article headed "Close Call" in yesterday's paper giving an account of the bravery of Capt. Ellison L. Gilmer, at sea on the leaking boat "Maneuver," gave the credit to E. S. Gilmer, when it should have been E. L. Gilmer.

An Excellent Cafe.
The cafe in the Southern Loan and Trust Company's building, is not only a great convenience to the occupants, but a most excellent restaurant, where one may drop in and get first class fare. Clean linen, new tableware, prompt attention and good food, well prepared, all combined go to make this cafe attractive.

He Fooled the Surgeons.
All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, Ohio, after suffering 18 months from rectal fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Troubles of Its Own.
It looks to an ordinary man that Greensboro has troubles enough of her own, but it seems that our neighbor High Point does not think so, as two of its population are in the pest house. From all accounts, a bustling place like High Point should have planks and nails enough to build accommodations for those afflicted or exposed to disease.

Men's four dollar high cut tan hunting shoes will be sold for the next ten days at $2.75 and their $3.50 high-cut russet and black line at $2.50 at Thacker & Brockmann's.

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my health and life. It cured me of lung trouble following grippe." Thousands owe their lives to this never failing remedy. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Howard Gardner.

For the next five days—that is, for the rest of this month—we will make the following special prices: Infants' fur-topped shoes—pink, red, tan and blue—33 cents; ladies' toilet slippers (same color), 50 cents. Any and all woolen underwear in stock, including union suits, at cost. All ladies' wraps at cost, except a few carried over from last season, which will be sold at half price. Please notice that this offer is only until February 1st.
Thacker & Brockmann.

Keep your feet dry. Shoe bills are cheaper than doctors' bills. We can fit you and any of your family in good reliable shoes at very moderate prices. It is no use for us to quote prices, because telling you the price does not convey any idea to you unless you can see the shoes. But we have too many shoes on hand in several lines and if you will take the trouble to give us a look we can convince you that we are willing to give you a great deal of shoe value for a very small amount of money, whether we get a profit on the shoes or not.
Thacker & Brockmann.
